

Sticky notes storytelling – feedback sheet

Give your partners feedback on their storytelling.

What was good?  Tick ✓ the boxes. Then tell your partner what was good. What you can say	Criteria	What could be improved?  Tick ✓ the boxes. Then give your partner tips. What you can say
<input type="checkbox"/> Your story is spooky /spine-chilling and fun to listen to. <input type="checkbox"/> Your story makes sense. <input type="checkbox"/> You used the simple past.	Content	<input type="checkbox"/> Try to make your story more spooky /spine-chilling and fun to listen to. Perhaps you can add details. <input type="checkbox"/> I'm not sure your ideas fit the story. <input type="checkbox"/> Next time use the simple past.
<input type="checkbox"/> You spoke loudly and clearly. <input type="checkbox"/> You used pauses. <input type="checkbox"/> You used your voice to create atmosphere. <input type="checkbox"/> I liked when you ...	Voice	<input type="checkbox"/> Try to pronounce your words more clearly. <input type="checkbox"/> You should pause more often. <input type="checkbox"/> Use your voice more to create atmosphere, for example you can speak louder or faster or you can whisper.
<input type="checkbox"/> You used body language to make your story more interesting. <input type="checkbox"/> You used strong facial expressions. <input type="checkbox"/> I liked your facial expression when you ...	Body language	<input type="checkbox"/> Try to use more gestures to underline what is happening in your story. <input type="checkbox"/> Try to use strong facial expressions to stress important parts.
<input type="checkbox"/> You spoke freely all the time. <input type="checkbox"/> You only used your notes sometimes.	Speaking feely	<input type="checkbox"/> Look at your audience, not at your notes. <input type="checkbox"/> Maybe you should practise more.