

1 Jamie's holiday plans

Host: Welcome to another afternoon programme of Young People's Lives and I'm your host, Steven Scott. As it is only three weeks to go before all the kids in Britain start their summer holidays, I'd like to know about your holiday plans – where you are going and what you want to do. With me in the studio today are Jamie and Oliver.

What are your plans, Jamie?

Jamie: We haven't made any plans yet. My dad can't go on holiday this summer because he's got work. My mum, my two sisters and I can't agree where to go.

My mum and Zoe, my youngest sister, would like to visit our grandma in Wales. She lives in the middle of nowhere, in a tiny little village. They want to go hiking and do some climbing up Mount Snowdon. I hate hiking, and I don't like spending my holidays in a village.

Don't get me wrong. I really love my grandma, she's cool and makes the best cakes ever, but I would like to do something more exciting than going to Wales.

I want to go to a big city, like Liverpool or London. You know, I've only been to London twice, and I've never been to Liverpool.

Host: And you other sister?

Jamie: Becky is a great football player. Her idea of a great holiday is going to an international football camp in Manchester.

Host: Wouldn't the camp be a good idea for you, too? You could make some new friends there.

Jamie: That's true. Perhaps we could go to the camp together.

Zoe and mum could go to Wales and go hiking. When I think about it, the football camp is a good idea.

Host: Well Jamie, I can see that you have decided.

So, let's talk to our second guest. Oliver, ...
