

6 A radio programme: Holiday plans (part 1)

- Presenter: Welcome to our last show before the summer holidays.
Today we want to know about your holiday plans. With us in the studio are Amy and William.
Amy, what are your plans for the summer holidays?
- Amy: My family and I are going to stay in Britain.
We are going to go somewhere we haven't been before, like the Scottish Highlands or the southwest of England: Cornwall or Devon.
- Presenter: So, you haven't decided yet where to go?
- Amy: No, not really.
You see, my dad is a real nature lover. He would like to go hiking somewhere in the mountains and perhaps do some fishing.
But that's not for me. I don't want to lose my way in the fog, trying to climb up to the top of some mountains in Scotland, in the rain.
- Presenter: So, what would you like to do?
- Amy: I would like to try some sailing or windsurfing. The beaches in the south of England are nice and I want to learn something new.
- William: Well, Amy, I don't quite agree with you there. I think hiking can be quite exciting, too.
I've never tried windsurfing or sailing, but I have been on some hiking tours and they were quite exciting. I mean there can always be surprises. Perhaps it's the weather, or the place where you stay for the night, or you meet some cool people.
There are lots of things that can happen, too. It can be a really exciting adventure.
- Presenter: Tell us about an interesting situation on one of your hiking trips, William.
We just have to take a short break, but we'll be right back with William telling us about his exciting hiking trip.
