

1 Brendon's room

Brendon's sister Kate can't find her CD.

Kate: Hi Emma, this is Kate. Do you know where I am? I'm in Brendon's room.

Emma: Really? Why are you in Brendon's room?

Kate: I can't find my favourite CD. I think Brendon has got it. But Brendon is not at home. I think he is in the park. He always plays football with his friends there. But you know what – his room is really ... interesting.

Emma: Interesting? What do you mean?

Kate: Well, it is a mess. All the things are in funny places. The computer is on the floor. There are also books, comics, computer games, clothes and twelve model cars on the floor. No wonder I can't find my CD. Now look at this. There are his superman socks. On the shelf. And his skates and his old football are on the desk.

Emma: So where are his school things?

Kate: I can't see them ... Oh, here they are. In the wardrobe! I can see the schoolbag, but there is nothing in it. Where is his pencil case? And where are his school books? Ah ... his exercise books are next to the bin, on the floor. Well, Brendon doesn't like homework. And he's not good at school. Now where are the books? OK, I see, the books are in a big box next to the window. There is also a baseball, a basketball and a tennis ball in that box. But where is my CD? Oh! What's that? Behind the door ... on the floor.

Emma: What is it?

Kate: My CD! Hooray!
