

1 Ordering food

- Brendon: Sorry mum, I haven't done the shopping yet. I went to the park with Rajiv and Charlie.
- Mum: Don't worry Brendon. It's OK. I don't feel like cooking today. Why don't we have an Indian takeaway?
- Brendon: That's a fantastic idea. What are we going to order? I'd like a hot curry dish, with chicken and rice.
- Mum: Chicken curry? No problem. But do you really like it hot?
- Brendon: Yes, I do.
- Mum: OK, I think I'd like a vegetarian dish, something with onions, mushrooms, tomatoes and potatoes. Can you look at the menu, please?
- Brendon: Sure. Look, here is something called Batata Nu Sak, it's a potato curry.
- Mum: Let me see. Mmm, sounds nice. I'll order that.
- Brendon: Can we order a starter and a dessert, too?
- Mum: What starters have they got? Cheese balls, masala chicken wings, chilli chicken – well, that might be too hot for me ...
- Brendon: Then it's just right for me. What are you having as a starter?
- Mum: I'll have the cheese balls. They sound good.
- Brendon: They do, don't they?
- Mum: You can try one or two.
- Brendon: Thanks. Now ... dessert. Look, they have Gulab Jamun. Indian milk balls. They serve it warm and if you want you can have vanilla or strawberry ice cream with it.
- Mum: That sound delicious. I'll have the milk balls with vanilla ice cream.
