

10 Gillian's weekend

Gillian: Last weekend I had a lovely weekend in the country on a farm. On Friday I went by train and Aunt Sandra met me at the station in her car. Her dog Boogie was with her. He's a really friendly dog. The train station is about twenty minutes from Aunt Sandra's farm. She lives in an old farmhouse with her husband Doug and her children Becky and Joshua. Becky and Joshua are twins, they're 5 years old.

First, we ate some sandwiches, then we were very busy. We prepared everything for the big "Farm Open Day". We cleaned everything and made lots of cakes. We worked until 11 o'clock. The next morning, we got up very early and fed all of the animals. We also got them ready for the "Parade of the Farm Animals".

At 3 o'clock lots of people arrived. There were many activities: The "Chicken Singers" sang in the barn. There was face painting for children, tractor driving for adults and cakes for everyone to buy and at 5 o'clock the "Parade of the Farm Animals".

I sold the cakes. I sold over 20 cakes. Uncle Doug said that I could keep half of the money for all my help. It was a wonderful day. The "Farm Open Day" ended at 9 o'clock. The "Country Cheese Band" didn't stop playing until 10 o'clock and we all danced.

On Sunday morning Uncle Doug, Aunt Sandra and the kids took me to the station. My train left at 10 o'clock and I was back in Camden at lunchtime. I went to the cinema in the afternoon and then did my homework.
