

6 Important inventions

Mr Knowall: Good afternoon, my name is Douglas Knowall. Today I am going to talk about some important inventions.

Alexander Graham Bell, who was born in Edinburgh in 1847, invented the telephone in 1876.

Could you imagine the world without telephones?

Only 3 years later in 1879 an American inventor, Thomas Edison, invented the light bulb.

Where would be today without light?

John Logie Baird, another inventor from Scotland, gave people pictures of the world. In 1926 he showed the world the first television.

And finally ... the Internet, without which I would have had difficulties getting the information about these great inventions.