

Caroline and Sandra on the phoneSandra:

Hi, Caroline.

Caroline:

Oh, hi, Sandra. How are you?

Sandra:

I'm fine, thanks. How are you? How is London?

Caroline:

Well, London is ok. And Camden is really nice, but it isn't easy. You know, I feel a bit lonely, because my mum and dad are very busy.

Sandra:

Oh Caroline. I'm sorry to hear that. Now, what about your new class?

Caroline:

The children are ok. No, really, they are nice.

Sandra:

So there are no problems at school? That's good.

Caroline:

Yeah, school is fine, actually. So what about you, Sandra?

Sandra:

Oh, things are just fine. I'm not sad. I'm happy. And I'm excited because there is a new boy in our class. He is from London. And he is very, very nice.

Caroline:

Really. So does he like Manchester?

Sandra:

Oh yeah, he does. He is a Manchester United fan. But his favourite hobby isn't football, it's music. He plays the guitar.

Caroline:

I see, just like you. How nice. What's his name?

Sandra:

Adam, his name is Adam. Oh, mom is home. She's in the kitchen. I must help her with the shopping. Can I call you back in ten minutes?
