

Steve and Brandon on the phoneBrendon:

Hi Steve. How are you?

Steve:

Hi Brendon. Nice to hear from you. I'm fine, thanks. So, how is Liverpool?

Brendon:

I like it, I really do. Liverpool is exciting. So, how is London? How is school?

Steve:

It's fine. I'm at a new school now. But I'm not lonely. I have friends and my class is really nice. And you know what? I'm in the school football team.

Brendon:

Great. I'm in my school's football team, too. What about your room in your new home?

Steve:

Well, I have got a new shelf for my books and a new bed. There is also a new computer. Now, the computer is not really new, it's from my dad, so it's five years old, but it's a good computer.

Brendon:

Cool. Do you play computer games a lot?

Steve:

No, not really. But I write emails, look at YouTube videos and I have a blog.

Brendon:

I see. What do you write about in your blog?

Steve:

About Camden Town, the market, my school, my family, my hobbies, my new room ...

Brendon:

Let me have a look ... Ok, now I see it. I can see photos of Camden Town, and there is you, and your family. But what about your new room? Why can't I see your new room?

Steve:

Because my room is ... how can I say it ... really chaotic. I can't find my things. My books are on the bed, my phone is under the bed, my shoes and pencils are on the floor ...

Brendon:

But your school things are on your desk?

Steve:

No, they are under the desk ... and my socks are on the wardrobe. It's not nice ...

Brendon:

Your mum and dad don't like that, do they?

Steve:

No, they don't.

Brendon:

So, where is your schoolbag? Is it under your desk?

Steve:

No, it isn't. It's on the wardrobe.
