

Bridges all over the world

14A

Here are five pictures of bridges all over the world. You will find some interesting information.

Read the clues and find out:

How long is the Forth Road Bridge? .....

name
year
length country

- 1) The Akashi Kaikyo Bridge in Japan is 1,991 m long. This is the longest bridge in the world.
- 2) People in Scotland could use their bridge for the first time in 1964.
- 3) The Forth Road Bridge is 618 m shorter than the bridge in the second picture.
- 4) The longest bridge in the world and the bridge, which is 367m shorter, are both 61 years younger than the Golden Gate Bridge.
- 5) In the second picture you can see the Great Belt Bridge in Denmark.
- 6) The oldest of these bridges, the Golden Gate Bridge, is 27 years older than the bridge in Scotland.
- 7) The bridge in Germany is 780 m shorter and 28 years older than the bridge in the third picture.
- 8) The picture of the Forth Road Bridge is between the pictures of the Emmerich Rhine Bridge in Germany and the Golden Gate Bridge, which is in the USA.
- 9) The bridge next to the picture of the Great Belt Bridge is 711 m shorter than the longest bridge of the world.